

Do you have Noise Induced Hearing Loss?

Have you ever worked in a noisy environment?

In Nova Scotia, Noise Induced Hearing Loss is considered to be an occupational disease. If you are experiencing hearing loss due to working in a noisy environment, you may be eligible for compensation from the Workers' Compensation Board of Nova Scotia.

It's important for you to know that in order to make a claim, you must contact the WCB within 12 months of having your noise induced hearing loss diagnosed by a medical professional.

For more information about the WCB's policies, procedures and coverage visit wcb.ns.ca or call:

- General Information Halifax
1-800-870-3331
- General Information Sydney
1-800-880-0003